Except as provided under sub. (2) (o), all provisions of this section are self-executing. The Legislature may prescribe further remedies for the violations of this section and further procedures for compliance with and enforcement of this section.

In this section, notwithstanding any statutory right, privilege or protection, “victim” means any of the following:

1. Any person against whom an act is committed that would constitute a crime if committed by a competent adult.
2. If the person under subd. 1 is deceased or physically or emotionally unable to exercise his or her rights under this section, the person’s spouse, parent or legal guardian, sibling, child, person who resided with the deceased at time of death, or other lawful representative..
3. If the person under subd 1 is a minor, the person’s parent, legal guardian or custodian, or other lawful representative.
4. If the person under subd, 1 is adjudicated incompetent, the person’s legal guardian or other lawful representative.

“Victim” does not include the accused or a person whom the court finds would not act in the best interests of a victim who is deceased, incompetent, a minor or is physically or emotionally unable to exercise the rights under this section.

In addition to any other available enforcement of rights or remedy for a violation of this section or of other rights, privileges, or protections provided by law, the victim, the victim’s attorney or other lawful representative or the attorney for the government upon request of the victim may assert and seek in any circuit court or before any other authority of competent jurisdiction, enforcement of the rights in this section and any other right, privilege, or protection afforded to the victim by law. The court or other authority with jurisdiction over the case shall act promptly on such a request and afford a remedy for the violation of any right of the victim. The court or other authority with jurisdiction over the case shall clearly state on the record the reasons for any decision regarding the disposition of a victim’s right and shall provide those reasons to the victim or the victim’s attorney or other lawful representative.

The victim may obtain review of any adverse decision concerning his or her rights as a victim by a court or other authority with jurisdiction under par. (a) by filing a petition for supervisory writ in the court of appeals and supreme court.

This section does not create any cause of action for damages against the state; any political subdivision of the state; any officer, employee, or agent of the state or a political subdivision of the state acting in his or her official capacity; or any officer, employee, or agent of the courts acting in his or her official capacity.

This section is not intended to and may not be interpreted to supersede a defendant's federal constitutional rights or to afford party status in a proceeding to any victim.
